Sunday of the 22nd Week of Ordinary Time September 1st, 2019

Dear Parish Family,

Continuing the topic about "What is a Parish?" is from a few weeks ago, I was asked a question earlier this week: "How do I understand what the role of parishioners is in a Parish?" Recalling that a parish is a geographic territory and that we are called to preach the Gospel to all who live in that area, to both Catholics & Non-Catholics alike, this question, the simple answer would be: parishioners are to live the Christian life and give witness to the Gospel in our community. It's the call of all Christians, but made specific to those who surround us. As the pastor, it's my responsibility to preach the Truth, teach the Faith, & help guide the people of the parish towards embracing sanctity in this life. While I might act as a representative of the parish both to the Diocese and our town, each parishioner is called to carry into all the parts of the world & their lives what they receive each Sunday at Mass: the Sacrificial Love of Our Lord in word & deed. For our parish, we have an opportunity to demonstrate our Christian Faith in every moment of every day. My job is to help strengthen your knowledge & love of Christ & the Faith, so that you might do the same for others. In this way, each of us embrace the humility that Christ speaks of in today's Gospel by being the servant of all, while also being ennobled by Christ, who sees the humility & love we have in our lives and uses it to weave the crowns, or lack thereof, that we possess in Eternity.

~ Fr. Peter Shaw
